Measures taken to prevent the destruction of unsold consumer products						During FY25, Ingka Group continued its efforts to prevent unsold products from becoming waste by implementing measures aimed at prolonging their useful life. Key activities included internal product re-use, returning eligible products to stock, repackaging operations, product repairs, and resale through As-is commercial areas within our customer meeting points, as well as donations to partner organizations. We also expanded communication and availability regarding our assembly spare parts offering, facilitating product repair and life extension to proactively reduce potential product waste. To build capability and awareness regarding waste prevention and product life-extension, we continued to develop and deliver targeted training and communication materials for our co-workers. This was supported by updated standard operating procedures and guidelines designed to guide unit-level co-workers and leaders in active product life prolongation.
Measures planned to prevent the destruction of unsold consumer products						Ingka Group will continue to strengthen and expand measures designed to prevent the destruction of unsold consumer products. Key focus areas include optimizing resale pathways through As-is commercial areas, refining product repair and repackaging operations, streamlining return-to-stock workflows, and expanding community donation programmes. We will also continue to support product longevity by improving the availability and accessibility of assembly spare parts. To further enhance our capabilities in preparing products for re-use, we are committed to the ongoing development and improvement of our standard operating procedures, operational guidelines, and unit-level processing equipment. To reinforce these initiatives, Ingka Group is actively enhancing its data collection, traceability, and reporting frameworks. These developments are designed to deliver increased transparency regarding the ultimate destination of unsold products and to provide robust metrics for evaluating the effectiveness of our prevention measures.
